Any lodging, transportation, entertainment, food, meals, or beverages received by the above public officeholders from a lobbyist's principal may not exceed twenty-five dollars in a day and two hundred dollars in a calendar year.

The value of the lodging, transportation, entertainment, food, meals, or beverages received must be disclosed on the officeholder's Statement of Economic Interests. The lobbyist's principal shall disclose all expenses associated with providing the lodging, transportation, entertainment, food, meals, or beverages

Disclosures required which would compromise the confidentiality of state or local economic development projects shall be reported as confidential. Prior written approval shall be obtained from the appropriate approving authority. Copies of the approval and the confidential disclosure shall be filed with the State Ethics Commission and the lobbyist's principal involved. This information shall be confidential and is not available for public disclosure until such time as the approving authority determines that such disclosure is appropriate.

The restrictions provided by this provision are not applicable if the public officeholder accepts the invitation from the lobbyist's principal and pays for his lodging, transportation, entertainment, food, meals, or beverages.

Lobbyist's principals are prohibited from employing, appointing, or retaining a lobbyist for compensation contingent in any manner upon the passage or defeat of any pending or proposed legislation, covered agency actions, or covered gubernatorial actions.

A lobbyist's principal or anyone acting on behalf of a lobbyist's principal may not employ or retain a public official or public employee, a member of their immediate family, or a firm or organization in which the public officeholder has an economic interest. A retainer is a payment for availability to perform services, rather than for actual services rendered.

A lobbyist's principal or anyone acting on behalf of a lobbyist's principal may not pay an honorarium to a public official or public employee. This does not prohibit the reimbursement of or expenditures for actual expenses for public officials for speaking engagements.

A lobbyist's principal or anyone acting on behalf of a lobbyist's principal may not offer, facilitate, or provide a loan to or on behalf of a statewide constitutional officer or member of the General Assembly unless the lobbyist's principal is a financial institution authorized to transact business in this State and makes the loan in the ordinary course of business.

Fees received and earned under fee agreement with client matter numbers
006953.16744/00001

A contract fee arrangement exists with this principal. The contract covers all work performed on behalf of the principal for both lobbying and non-lobbying services for the period March 16, 1994 to September 15, 1994. At the date of the preparation of this statement, neither the amount of the contract that will apply to future lobbying activities nor the specific lobbyist that will perform the service have been identified. Therefore, future lobbying amounts will be reported as fees received or promised in the period in which the services are rendered.
